XLII

The divelish hag by chaunges of my cheare<sup>o</sup> 370
 Perceiv'd my thought, and drownd in sleepe night,<sup>o</sup>
 With wicked herbs and ointments did besmeare
 My body all, through charms and magicke might,
 That all my senses were bereaved quight:
 Then brought she me into this desert waste, 375
 And by my wretched lovers side me pight,
 Where now enclosed in wooden wals full faste,
 Banisht from living wights, our wearie dayes we waste.

XLIII

But how long time, said then the Elfin knight,
 Are you in this misformed house to dwell? 380
 We may not chaunge (quoth he) this evil plight,
 Till we be bathed in a living well;<sup>o</sup>
 That is the terme prescribed by the spell.
 O how, said he, mote I that well out find,
 That may restore you to your wonted well? 385
 Time and suffised fates to former kynd
 Shall us restore, none else from hence may us unbynd.
